RopaVet B.V. is a Dutch company specialised in the development of natural products for pets and hobby animals. Many animals sooner or later experience digestive problems, fungal infections or parasites. Fortunately, many of these problems can be prevented with the right support.

At RopaVet, we take the best from nature when developing our products with natural ingredients whose effectiveness has been scientifically proven.

Many of our formulas contain high-quality oregano oil, a powerful natural remedy. This oregano oil is carefully obtained from our own oregano fields!

Healthy animals, naturally!
